

My Grit Test Results: 4.5

- This is 90% higher than most Americans
- I would say that my results would have turned out much differently before college. I had grit when it came to my academics, but I didn't have much when it came to myself. I am proud of my score and how I have developed throughout the years.